

A HOME TOWN PAPER FOR HOME TOWN PEOPLE

VOL. XXVI

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CAL., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1919.

NO. 41

SAN MATEO TO VOTE BOND ISSUE

NEIGHBOR CITY PLANS $438,000 ISSUE TO BUY NEW FIRE TRUCK, ALARM SYSTEM AND WATER PLANT OF PENINSULA COMPANY

The city trustees of San Mateo at their regular meeting Monday night heard the first reading of the new city ordinance calling for a special city election to vote on $438,000 bonds. If the board takes favorable action on the ordinance at its next meeting, as there is every indication it will, the election will be held November 10th.

The ordinance calls for a vote on three propositions. The first is for a new fire truck of the most modern type, costing, with all accessories, $14,000.

The second proposition is to provide a four-circuit fire alarm system. This will cost the city of San Mateo $24,000 to install.

The remainder of the money, $400,000, is to provide for the purchase of the Peninsula Water Company and the establishment of a municipal water plant. By this purchase the city would secure permanent right to the use of 300,000 gallons of water for daily use from the Spring Valley lakes.

ROOSEVELT MEMORIAL PLANS ARE GROWING

E. E. Cunningham of South San Francisco has made public the names of prominent San Mateo county residents who are to work during the next few weeks in the Americanization movement of the Roosevelt memorial campaign. Mr. Cunningham is chairman of the San Mateo county committee.

In addition to community chairmen whose appointments have already been noted in The Enterprise, the following have been named: Dr. C. L. Morgan, Halfmoon Bay; Dr. C. V. Thompson, Pescadero; Hon. M. B. Johnson, Montara; E. V. Danmann, San Pedro valley.

The memorial fund campaign will be conducted through the week of October 20th-27th, when $5,000,000 will be collected through popular subscriptions throughout the nation. This fund will provide for the erection of a monumental memorial at Washington, the creation of a memorial park at Oyster Bay and the possible endowment of an American national university for the teaching of Americanism. The apportionment for San Mateo county in this campaign is $3000.

The Roosevelt Memorial Association, the national non-partisan organization which is back of this Americanization movement, has just completed organization plans for the enrollment of all subscribers to the memorial fund as life members of the association.

THREE BOY SCOUTS GET MEDALS FOR STAMP SELLING

Y. M. C. A. OPENING MOST SUCCESSFUL

Entertainment Much Enjoyed; Rooms Now Proving Popular; Grounds to Be Equipped Soon.

The Y. M. C. A. opening last Friday night was an unqualified success from every standpoint. The hall was taxed to its capacity to accommodate the large audience that assembled. The program went off according to schedule and every number was good.

Judging from the size of the audience, the citizens of South San Francisco realized it was an important event in the town's history. Chairman J. O. Snyder made this point clear in his opening remarks, when he said: "This evening's entertainment marks a new era in South San Francisco. Heretofore in this bustling industrial city we have paid too little attention to one of the most important of all industries, that of raising our children to be upright citizens, to be strong of body and clean of mind. This is the work the Y. M. C. A. is designed primarily to accomplish here."

After the program the entire audience was served with punch.

Since its opening the Y. M. C. A. hall has been a popular place. It has become so popular, in fact, that Secretary David L. Smith has found it necessary to place some restrictions on the small boys using the rooms. Boys under 18 will be allowed in the rooms from 3 to 5 daily except Saturday, when their hours will be from 9:30 to 11:30 in the morning. Boys working in the factories are excepted. This plan is designed to give the men who are employed during the day an opportunity to use the rooms without interruption during their leisure hours.

The current magazines will be found on the tables in the reading room within a few days, the Y. M. C. A. having arranged to take twenty-four of the principal publications as well as many newspapers.

Within the next week some more equipment will be installed at the rooms. This has been obtained at a low figure from army "Y's" that were going out of business in the city. A stage, two more pool tables, some tables for checkers and other games are included, as well as articles for the gymnasium.

The playground on Grand avenue has been leveled and rolled and the work of installing the equipment will start as soon as it arrives.

SWITCHMAN CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO CARS AT STEEL MILL

D. W. Murphy, a switchman at the Pacific Coast Steel Company's plant, was painfully but not seriously injured Monday morning when he had his shoulder crushed between two cars while at work in the yard. He was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital where his injuries were treated, and later in the day he was returned to his rooms at the Metropolitan Hotel.

SCIENCE CLUB MEETS AT HIGH SCHOOL; ELECTS OFFICERS

The Science Club held a meeting Friday, October 3d, at the high school. An election took place and the following officers were chosen: President, Reese Lloyd; vice-president, Sarah May Doak; secretary and treasurer, Edith Broner. A committee for the drawing up of a constitution was appointed and also a program committee. There were eighteen charter members. The meeting adjourned at 1 o'clock.

CONTRACT LET FOR MORE SEWER

W. J. TOBIN SUCCESSFUL BIDDER; CITY GETS OFFER FOR BONDS FROM BANK OF ITALY; MANY "WELCOME HOME" BILLS PAID.

W. J. Tobin of Oakland was the successful bidder for the constructing of the sewer on Commercial avenue from Chestnut avenue to Ashton avenue, bids for which work were opened at the meeting of the board of city trustees Monday night. The total of the items in Mr. Tobin's bid was $1681.56. Five other bids were received, the bidders being D. O. Church, James T. Tobin, Moran Improvement Company, T. E. Clinch, and Charles Lindgren, and the amounts of the bids $3159.50, $2328.44, $2279.13, $2289.15, and $2657.22, respectively. Mr. Tobin stated he wished to begin the work very soon to have it as far along as possible before the rains come.

The city received the second offer for its bond issue of $129,000 at the meeting. It came from the Bank of Italy, and was in the nature of a trade for United States 4% per cent Victory bonds. A representative of the Bank of Italy attended Monday night's meeting and tendered the bank's offer. His proposition was that the city exchange all or any part of its bond issue with the bank for an equal value in Victory bonds, then, as the city needed money to build the proposed city hall, sewer extensions, or electric fire alarm system, the purpose for which the bonds were voted, the bank would buy back the Victory bonds. As the city bonds draw 5 per cent interest and the government bonds 4% per cent, thus entailing a loss to the city of one-quarter of 1 per cent, the offer was not accepted, although it had some features to recommend it such as the possibility of Victory bonds going above par. The board members were unanimous in their opinion that, as it is not known yet how soon the money for the work will be needed as it is still uncertain when the work will start, the matter should be held in abeyance for a time.

A communication was read from the Methodist church in answer to a request from the city that the church put a price on its property in the block where the proposed civic center is to be. The letter stated that the church would accept the lot at the southwest corner of Spruce and Grand avenue and $3500 to boot, provided the city would pay for moving the church to this lot and place it on a good foundation. The city clerk was instructed to write the church officials that their offer was declined with thanks and that it was felt the proper civic spirit was not shown when the offer was made.

A large number of bills connected with the recent "welcome home" celebration were presented at the meeting and ordered paid. The amount of these bills shows that when the costs of the affair are all settled the total will amount to about $1500.

A letter was read from Andrew Hynding, urging the planting of trees along the parkways of the city streets. A. McSweeney, recently appointed a committee of one by the Chamber of Commerce to place this matter before the city officials, appeared and told of investigations he had been making as to the best trees to plant. Action was postponed until next meeting.

City Marshal C. C. Conrad applied

TWO DIE IN STREET CAR-AUTO COLLISION

Automobile Tries to Beat Car to Crossing; Two Dead, Five Injured Is Result.

Two men are dead and four others injured, two of them seriously, as a result of the auto in which they were riding crashing into a San Mateo car near Daly City early Monday morning. The dead are:

Mike Finn, 40 years old, 201 Mission street.

E. I. Johnson, 35 Sixth avenue.

The injured are:

Robert Young, 35 Sixth avenue.

Ed Swineford, 3880 Mission street.

Hans Goff, 2301 Mission street.

Charles and William Herlitz, address unknown.

The party, seven in all, had been down the peninsula on a Sunday outing and were returning to the city when the accident occurred shortly after midnight. Passengers on the car and witnesses of the accident declare there was a large quantity of liquor in the auto and that the men bore every evidence of being more or less intoxicated. The motorman of the car says he saw the machine approaching at a rapid rate and swerving from side to side. He declares his car was not traveling fast and his passengers corroborate his statement. According to Constable Landini of Daly City, it seemed that Finn, who was driving, saw the street car and tried to beat it to the crossing. The impact was terrific. Finn was thrown about thirty feet and the machine was practically demolished.

The injured men were rushed to the South San Francisco Hospital. Finn died shortly after reaching the hospital and Johnson at about 8 o'clock. The other men were later taken to their homes.

CHILDREN IN AUTO HAVE NARROW ESCAPE IN COLLISION

Nine small children had a narrow escape from injury when the car in which they were riding with the Rev. George Maxwell of 2840 Twenty-fifth street, San Francisco, collided at Linden and Grand avenues with a gravel truck belonging to the Western Rock and Gravel Company Tuesday evening. The truck was driven by Archie Hamilton. Those who saw the accident are agreed that the fault lay chiefly with the driver of a limousine who was coming south on Linden at a very rapid rate. In order to avoid a general smash with the limousine, both the truck and Maxwell's machine swerved from their course and the collision ensued. Maxwell's car had a front axle bent. A. P. Scott of the gravel company took the children to their homes in his machine.

NEIGHBORS' ROW IN COURT.

The case of the People vs. Silvia Cartivari of 501 Baden avenue will come up in City Recorder J. J. Dowd's court this evening at 8 o'clock. The complaining witness is Gynsgyve Zannetti, a neighbor of the defendant; the charge, disturbing the peace and using abusive language.

..... for and was granted a ten days' leave of absence.

A resolution was passed instructing the clerk to pay the sum of $1000 to Werner & Coffee, San Francisco architects, for the plans for the proposed city hall drawn by them.

City Attorney J. W. Coleberd, City Health Officer Dr. J. C. McGovern, and City Clerk W. J. Smith were appointed delegates to the convention of the Pacific League of Municipalities, to be held at Riverside, Calif., the latter part of October.

The reports of several city officers were read and accepted.

TOWN OF COLMA VISITED BY FIRE

NEIGHBORING CITY HAS WORST FIRE OF ITS HISTORY THURSDAY; TWO BUSINESS BUILDINGS DESTROYED; LOSS ABOUT $20,000

The town of Colma was visited by the most serious fire of its history Thursday afternoon and evening, when the El Dorado garage and a two-story store and residence building adjoining were destroyed with a loss of over $20,000. The garage belongs to C. Pucci and Mr. Palmoggy, the other building to Mrs. A. Rubin, Mrs. Rubin and her two daughters being the occupants of the apartments on the second floor. The store room on the ground floor was vacant. Several automobiles which were in the garage at the time of the fire were also destroyed.

The fire started in the garage from an explosion of gasoline. Because of inadequate fire-fighting facilities much difficulty was experienced in fighting the flames. The arrival of fire apparatus from San Francisco was, probably, all that saved other buildings near by from destruction. In all, three fire companies from the city took part in the battle which lasted from about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the fire started, until nearly midnight, when the flames were at last gotten under control. After the arrival of the city fire fighters over a half mile of hose had to be laid to the nearest hydrant at Daly City.

An appeal for aid was sent to the fire department of South San Francisco, but as Fire Chief Truax knew that hose would have to be laid to Daly City and as the apparatus here carries only 1500 feet of hose, the local department did not respond.

Colma was practically cut off from telephone communication with other points today, as a number of telephone poles were burned off and the wires put out of commission.

It is reported that the garage was insured but that the Rubin building carried no insurance.

HUNTERS' POINT IS GAINING IN FAVOR

An optimistic report on the fight being made by the Southern Promotion Association for the selection of Hunters' Point as the site of the naval base in San Francisco bay has been transmitted to the hundreds of members of the association by President George L. Ricconi.

Representatives of the association in Washington have indicated that the outlook for the selection of Hunters' Point is very favorable since Secretary of the Navy Daniels recently inspected the site.

Aided by Supervisors Welch, Kortick and Gallagher, the Southern Promotion Association has been leading the fight for Hunters' Point. Its membership roll is made up of the big industrial and wholesale firms in the district south of Market street, San Francisco. A recent membership campaign has netted 180 new members.

Supervisor Welch, chairman of the streets committee of the board of supervisors, has notified the association that district improvements to the extent of nearly $250,000 will be started immediately.

'Tis better to have tried and failed than never to have tried at all.

FORMER EDITOR ENTERPRISE DIES

M. A. Green Passes Away at Home of Parents in San Francisco; Had Many Friends in County.

Maurice A. Green, at one time editor of The Enterprise and known to practically all the residents of this town, died last Sunday night at the home of his parents in San Francisco after a short illness. His death came as a shock to his friends in this city, many of whom had not heard of his illness.

Green was in newspaper work in this county for a number of years, having been correspondent of the San Francisco Examiner for about eight years before he entered his country's service during the war. He resigned from his position with the Examiner to enter the intelligence department of the army for about a year. After his release from government service he entered the employ of a large clothing firm in San Francisco as publicity man and at the time of his death was editor of its house organ. At the time of his demise he was but 30 years of age and there was every evidence of a brilliant career ahead for him. He was buried Monday in the Home of Peace Cemetery. The near relatives who survive him are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Green; a sister, Sadie Evelyn Green, and a brother, David Green.

Y. M. C. A. SECRETARY TO BE MARRIED NEXT WEEK

Secretary David L. Smith of the Y. M. C. A. is being congratulated by his many friends over the prospect of his marriage next week. The young lady who will soon be Mrs. Smith is Miss Esther McCracken of Sarcocle, Mo. Miss McCracken has two brothers and a sister living in San Francisco and will arrive in the city the first of the week. The wedding will take place Wednesday at the First Presbyterian Church, both Mr. Smith and Miss McCracken being of that denomination. Mr. Smith will bring his bride to this city to live. They will make their home at the Knoth Apartments.

The romance between Mr. Smith and Miss McCracken dates from 1915, the exposition year. Mr. Smith was acting as a Y. M. C. A. secretary in San Francisco at that time and became acquainted with Miss McCracken, who was out here from Missouri taking in the big fair.

VISITACION NEIGHBORS AIR QUARRELS IN COURT

Charles Linde of Visitacion Valley was in Judge W. J. Smith's court Wednesday afternoon on a charge of malicious mischief brought by one of his neighbors, Eli Allemond. Allemond claimed that Linde poisoned his (Allemond's) chickens. Linde, who works for the Visitacion Valley Land Company, declared that the poison was put out for squirrels. Although the evidence against Linde was strong, as he had been heard to declare he would kill the chickens, Judge Smith did not deem it warranted a conviction. Linde was acquitted of the charge and both sides received a lecture from Judge Smith on neighbors living together in peace.

MOTORCYCLE AND TRUCK COLLIDE IN DARKNESS

D. Glusta, who lives at the Armour Hotel in this city, had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday evening when the motorcycle he was riding collided with a truck at the corner of Linden avenue and San Bruno road. The truck, whose driver's name is unknown, was not carrying a light and Glusta did not see it until he was too close to avoid the collision. He was treated at the South San Francisco Hospital for bruises and abrasions.

RE-ENLISTED BECAUSE ARMY WAS HOME TO HIM

In the course of the day's events at the Publicity Bureau, U. S. army recruiting service, Sergeant McDonnell, chief of publicity, has occasion to come in contact with many humorous and pathetic phases of human happenings. One of the most pathetic of these came to light in the person of Sokas Kahan, an Armenian, who re-enlisted in the service. He formerly enlisted in the United States army at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., in March, 1917, and after fighting for democracy was finally discharged on January 14th of this year. After returning he heard of the terrible atrocities being committed by the Turks against Armenia, the country of his birth, and immediately started for Armenia to try and rescue his relatives and bring them to the land of liberty. Sailing for Marseilles, and then to Russia and many other places in Europe in an effort to reach his people, he finally located some friends in Gardy, Russia, who had been with his people in Armenia and had managed to escape the wrath of the Turk. The news they gave him was that his mother, father, four sisters and all the rest of his relatives had been burned to death in their homes by the unrelenting and cruel Turk. Heartbroken, he returned to America, the land of equal rights, and re-enlisted in the United States army, the only real home, as he says, in the world for a man who wishes to follow up his ambitions to the best advantage in preparation for a successful career in civil life.

GREAT LAND SHOW WELL PATRONIZED

The California Industries and Land Show opened Saturday at the exposition auditorium with a record-breaking attendance. The fine weather, the interest of Californians in the exhibit of state activities, the overcrowding of visitors from all parts of the earth aided in making the show one of the most widely patronized of any event ever held at the auditorium.

During Saturday evening and Sunday, fifty thousand persons entered the doors and viewed the big exposition. County exhibits were thronged, manufacturers were besieged, and every booth from the milk bar to the free moving pictures was taxed to capacity.

In the moonlight Gunga's face was working again, and his eyes, narrowed, seemed to be searching intently the surface of the water around him.

"Among the crew, sahib," he asked, "there is a Kanaka, a tall man with great shoulders, and whose lip is scarred as though it had been cut across?"

"Yes!" The word was a sharp intake of Wallen's breath.

"Then it is true," said Gunga. "Tonight he slipped away from the ship and swam ashore; and it may be, for Allah is all powerful, that he will swim back again. I lay hidden, sahib, where I have lain hidden for many nights, and he came and told the story; and I, Gunga, listened unknown to him, and the light was gone from my life, as he told how he had shot the master through the porthole and thrown the pistol and those things to clean it with in upon the floor."

"And he told of you, sahib, and the strange way you came aboard the ship, and how twice he had tried to kill you, but fate had not willed it so. And at last, thinking that your death was sure, either by his hand or by one in Singapore, and thinking to torture you with fear he put the paper with the hand upon it under your cabin door."

"And other things he told as well, sahib."

"Of how the captain and the crew thought strangely of the voyage, of how, through him, they came to whisper among themselves that it was a treasure-hunt; and how, the day after you came aboard, before he knew the ship was going to Singapore, that you might not escape by going ashore at some port where they would not be waiting for you as they would at Singapore, that you might even be forced by the captain to stay on board, he pretended to have found a slip of paper with a certain latitude and longitude upon it which he made pretense you had dropped from your pocket."

"This he carried to the captain, thinking that the captain would believe the treasure within his reach and search for it on his own account in spite of you, sahib, and so keep you aboard, for the paper was the position Ram Gulab Singh had given the Kanaka, as he had also given the drawing of the hand; but the captain only took the paper and bade him hold his tongue and—"

"Wait," said Wallen quickly. "It is certain, then, that Captain Layton and the crew had nothing to do with my father's murder—with Drink-House Sam?"

"It is certain, sahib," Gunga answered. "Though, too, there are strange things about that ship—but the tale is for another time."

"And this Ram Gulab Singh?" Wallen questioned through thin lips.

Gunga's eyes were still searching the water around him in the same intent, curious way.

"Have patience, sahib," he said. "Time does not press now. It is well that you should know all before you go aboard. The ship is to sail at once, then?"

"Yes," said Wallen.

"It is as the Kanaka said," Gunga nodded. "Sahib, a question: How did you know of those Chinamen and Drink-House Sam?"

"One of them told me as he was dying," Wallen replied, "because, I suppose, I had nursed him as best I could through the night."

"Yes," Gunga nodded his head again. "But I will end first the Kanaka's tale so that the sahib will understand all else the better. The Kanaka had been a long time a member of the crew, long before the ship came to Honolulu."

"It was in Honolulu that for much money he was hired by one of Ram Gulab Singh's agents to kill the master."

"If he failed in that he was to stir up the crew to dream of the treasure-hunt, sahib, which, with so strange a voyage as was theirs, would readily be believed, so that it might come about that the crew and officers would take things into their own hands, and would take the ship to the place Ram Gulab Singh had set down upon the paper, and where Ram Gulab Singh would lie in wait to work his will upon the master and upon them all, sahib, for dead men tell no tales. But for that paper, sahib, it so fell out, he had no need until you, by Allah's will, came also to the ship, as I have related. All this, sahib, I learned tonight while I lay hidden."

"Go on!" urged Wallen tensely. "I begin to see—a little. My father, Gunga—and this Ram Gulab Singh?"

"The young sahib is twenty-four," said Gunga. "It began two years before you were born. The master was a great merchant here, owning schooners by means of which he traded with the natives. Ram Gulab Singh was the native governor over a group of these islands."

"He was very powerful, and his wealth was beyond reckoning."

"Also, sahib, he was a murderer and a thief, whereby he had his wealth; and he hid his face behind the British government, whom he deceived. Your father lost one schooner and then another and many goods; and knowing in his heart that it was Ram Gulab Singh, he complained to the government. But because he could prove nothing, nothing was done, sahib; only that it came to the ears of Ram Gulab Singh, and he mocked your father, my master, by messengers in private."

"Sahib, my master was a brave man, and of great cunning. He loaded a schooner with such richness of goods that it was common talk; but also, in secret, he placed abundance of arms upon the vessel; and at night, as she sailed, he himself came aboard in the darkness with many men to join the crew, and of these I was one, sahib."

"It came about as the master had foreseen."

"He sailed to the islands where Ram Gulab Singh was; and Ram Gulab Singh, knowing that it was your father's schooner, and thinking it a prize of great value, fell into the snare. Sahib, he came upon us with four proas, and our men lay hidden below the decks, that they might not be seen until the pirates, led by Ram Gulab Singh himself, boarded us from the proas."

"It was a fight, sahib, that I would to Allah I might see again before I die, for my arm is still strong and my blood is the blood of youth, and the years count not. They fought as reptiles fight who must either fight or die. But half escaped, and those by swimming to the proas which, in their first onslaught, after all had come on board of us, we had cut adrift from the schooner's sides."

"Many times in the melee my master tried to single out Ram Gulab Singh, that they might meet face to face, but it was only at the last the master came upon the other as Ram Gulab Singh was climbing over the rail to escape, and his hand was on the rail, but before he had dropped into the water the master's cutlass had severed three fingers from the hand of Ram Gulab Singh—such, sahib, is the reading of the paper with the one-fingered hand."

"Sahib, this time the government took heed, for we had prisoners who confessed; but against these Ram Gulab Singh sent many to take the oath that he had been elsewhere at the time. And so again there was not the full measure of proof, but my master pressed the matter and asked that an armed force be sent against Ram Gulab Singh. Sahib, if that had been done, all would have been well."

"Instead, the government deemed it wise to bring only great dishonor upon Ram Gulab Singh, and they stripped Ram Gulab Singh of all rank and authority, and for several years patrolled the waters of the island closely."

Gunga paused. The muscles of his face were twitching again—and the hard, flintlike gleam was back once more in the coal-black eyes that always swept the water, that never looked at Wallen.

"Sahib, it was because of your mother, before you were born, that the master left the East. The heart of Ram Gulab Singh was black with hate—and revenge filled his soul. It is too long a story to tell now, sahib. Great wealth was his; those in his pay were everywhere."

"Twice he tried to bring worse than death upon the master by attacks upon your mother. And the second time, sahib—Gunga's hands around the oars tightened until the knuckles were as white knobs protruding from the swarthy skin—"it was only by a miracle that she was saved. But, sahib, it killed her, even if it were months afterward when your father had hidden her in the gray house the sahib knows, for she was with child then, and when you were born she died."

"It Is Too Long a Story to Tell Now, Sahib."

"And then, sahib, the master stayed on there to protect you, as he had promised your mother he would do. But even there it was not further than the arm of Ram Gulab Singh could reach. Does the sahib remember the night as a child he crawled from bed and came down the stairs, and there was a man dead upon the floor?"

"I remember," said Wallen in a voice he did not recognize as his own. "And then, Gunga?"

"And then," said Gunga, "the young sahib went away; and the master had no longer any heart for anything but to stay on in the gray house. When next the master learned of you you were at sea, sahib; and after that he watched your comings and your goings always."

"And all this time Ram Gulab Singh gave no sign. Then came the time that word reached the master that you had taken berth upon the Upolo, to trade among the islands, of Ram Gulab Singh—and upon the master fell again the old fire, for he knew that it was the hand of Ram Gulab Singh that struck."

"I sahib, he sent here immediately to spy upon them, and this I learned: Drink-House Sam, taking with him the Chinese of whom the sahib knows, was sent to Shanghai to wait the coming of the Tokamaru, the sahib's ship; and there at the time the Upolo was in port. He bribed the man who was mate to leave the vessel, and also some of the crew, that there might be room for the men he had brought; and then, through the influence of others of Ram Gulab Singh's agents in higher quarters, the captain, who was an honest man, sahib, was led to induce you to sail with him in the other's place."

"But sahib, all this I did not learn at once; and meanwhile your father, knowing well what threatened, had stopped at Honolulu and chartered the Monleigh, as the sahib knows, to follow the Upolo in the hope that he might reach you in time before the work was done."

"Sahib, there is but of the murder of Drink-House Sam to tell. Here in Singapore I have crept into the house of the banker Loo, an old and crafty Chinese fox, who is the chief agent of Ram Gulab Singh. And it was there I learned of Drink-House Sam, who, though he was one of them, was hated by them because his demands for money were ever insistent, and because, sahib, with the years he knew too much to be refused."

"And there to that house came the Kanaka tonight; and there, too, came word that you had made trouble at Drink-House Sam's. And, sahib, as wolves that feed upon themselves, and because it would seem that the guilt would fall upon the stranger, upon you, sahib, who had come and fought already with Drink-House Sam tonight, they went, sahib, and did even as you have seen. Would the sahib, too, have paid with blood for his father's blood?"

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Under this heading The Enterprise will publish, from week to week, a series of excellent recipes written especially for this paper by a woman who has had a university training in domestic science and a wide experience in cooking in her own home. Every recipe has been thoroughly tested and will be found economical and palatable.

Graham Pudding.

- 1½ cups graham flour.
- ½ cup molasses.
- ¼ cup melted fat.
- ½ cup milk.
- 1 egg.
- ½ teaspoon soda.
- 1 teaspoon baking powder.
- ½ cup raisins.
- ½ teaspoon salt.

Spices.

1. Mix all and beat well.
2. Fill buttered molds two-thirds full and steam two hours.
3. Serve with sauce.

Vallejo Spanish Stew.

1. Cut up an onion and brown in a little fat.
2. Add to the onion a can of tomatoes, one green pepper sliced and a handful of raisins.
3. Then cut pieces of beef such as the flank end of steak into small pieces and add to above. Simmer for about three hours.
4. Just before serving add a handful of ripe olives.

This is very delicious, made by an old Vallejo family.

Beet Salad.

1. Boil beets until tender.
2. Pour one cup vinegar over beets and stand until vinegar is colored.
3. Pour off vinegar and heat.
4. Mix two tablespoons flour and one cup sugar and add to the vinegar, stirring constantly to prevent lumping.
5. Add one tablespoon butter.
5. Pour the mixture over sliced beets and serve on lettuce salad. If desired mayonnaise may be added.

This will keep indefinitely.

HOW TO SAVE BY TREATING OUTER GARMENTS WITH CARE

Outer garments which are given careful attention wear so much longer and look so much better than those which are neglected that time used in caring for them is well spent.

The following hints for their care are given by home economic experts in the United States Department of Agriculture:

Hang outer garments carefully when not in use. Plenty of rods and hangers save space and prevent wrinkles.

Keep covers over delicate garments or others worn only occasionally to protect against dust and rubbing.

Do not keep partly soiled garments in an unaired place. They are likely to become discolored.

Fold carefully all garments kept in drawers or boxes.

In putting garments away for the season, guard against wrinkling, stretching, fading, and insects. Fold so that creases will correspond as far as possible with the folds into which the garment falls in use. Do not allow weight to rest on folded garments. Garments of firm materials may be left hanging if carefully covered against dust and insects; but sleazy materials, heavily trimmed garments, and circular skirts are likely to be stretched out of shape by their own weight. Keep in the dark to avoid change in color.

Removable and washable collars, cuffs, and linings save cleaning in women's dresses, waists, and coats.

ONE-SIDED.

He—I suppose we are to consider the engagement broken.
She—You are, not me—I'm still engaged to someone else.

TO REDUCE COST OF SHOES PROLONG YOUR SHOES' LIFE

Have shoes carefully fitted. Well-fitting shoes look better and wear better, besides being more comfortable. Poor quality shoes are seldom economical.

Alternate two pairs; they last longer. Slip shoe-trees into shoes when you take them off; it makes them keep their shape longer.

Keep shoes clean and well-brushed; a dressing made with a little oil, well rubbed in, prolongs the wear of leather and kid.

Clean canvas shoes on shoe-trees to prevent shrinking. Sponge with a little water and soap that contains whitening or use a commercial cleanser.

Dry wet shoes slowly on shoe-trees or stuff with paper.

Protect shoes with rubbers in wet weather. Even with careful drying the moisture tends to rot the sewing threads.

Do not wear run-down heels; they will spoil the shape of the whole shoe.

Have small rips mended at once; often they can be sewed at home.

A LITTLE WORK PROLONGS WEAR OF UNDERGARMENTS

When making undergarments, reinforce the parts which are subject to hard wear. Sew buttons on children's garments through several thicknesses of cloth to prevent tearing out.

Run a few threads back and forth in the heel and toe of a new stocking.

Darn promptly small holes in stockings and other knitted underwear.

A stitch in time saves the garment. Rub a piece of soap across the end of a run to stop the run until you can mend it, suggests the home economic experts in the Department of Agriculture.

Wash stockings frequently. It prevents continued strain on the same part of the stocking and rotting and change of color from perspiration.

Wash new stockings before wearing to remove the sizing; otherwise holes may appear at once.

EDIBLE FISH TO BE FOUND IN DIFFERENT STATE GROUPS

Every section of the country possesses a variety of fish. Acquaint yourself with the edible fish in your locality and vary the diet by using different kinds, the Department of Agriculture suggests.

New England.—Alewife, cod, cusk, flounder, goosefish, grayfish, haddock, hake, halibut, herring, mackerel, mullet, pollock, salmon, scup, sea trout, shad, smelt, squeteague, sword fish, tilefish, whiting.

Middle Atlantic.—Alewife, bass, bluefish, butterfish, carp, catfish, cod, flounder, goosefish, halibut, mackerel, perch, rock, salmon, shad, smelt, spot, tilefish, weakfish, whiting.

South Atlantic.—Alewife, bass, bluefish, carp, catfish, drumfish, mullet, perch, shad, Spanish mackerel, spot, squeteague.

Pacific Coast.—Barracuda, bass, flounder, grayfish, halibut, herring, pike, rockfish, sable fish, salmon, smelt, trout.

Mississippi Valley.—Black bass, bowfin, buffalo, burbot, carp, catfish, crappie, drumfish, pike, red snapper, rock bass, sturgeon, sucker.

Great Lakes.—Bass, bowfin, burbot, carp, catfish, drumfish, lake herring, lake trout, perch, pike, sturgeon.

Gulf.—Barracuda, buffalo, carp, catfish, croaker, drumfish, mullet, Spanish mackerel, squeteague, sturgeon.

CHURCH CONDUCTING CANVASS OF THE CITY

The Methodist church has instituted a canvass of South San Francisco for the purpose of ascertaining the number of residents who are attending churches of any denomination, the number of children of the town, what Sunday schools they are attending, and other matters of general church interest. The members of the Ladies' Aid are doing this work under the direction of the Rev. Daniel Stevens.

CLUB BREAKFAST TO BE HELD AT Y. M. C. A.

Final plans for the Woman's Club annual breakfast, which is to be held Thursday, October 16th, are nearing completion under the competent supervision of Chairman Mrs. E. C. Peck. The Y. M. C. A. has very kindly offered the use of the old lodge hall in the Martin building. This hall in the past has seen many gatherings of the Woman's Club and its use was gladly accepted for the breakfast. All members will please note the change of meeting place. The hour remains the same—12 o'clock. Those attending are asked to use the Linden avenue entrance.

SANDWICH A STANDBY IN LUNCHEONS FOR SCHOOL

When the child reaches the age of 6 or 7 years, the time to begin school, new problems present themselves in child feeding, because the school lunch must be carefully considered and planned. This lunch should be planned with reference to breakfast and supper.

As milk is the main diet for the younger child, so is the sandwich for the lunch of the child of school age. Yeast bread is more easily digested than most of the quick breads. White, whole wheat, graham, raisin, nut, and brown bread may be used. The bread should be one day old. The butter should be soft enough to spread easily. Sandwiches are best when wrapped in oil paper to keep moist.

MR. AND MRS. CHAS. O'ROURKE GIVEN OLD-TIME CHARIVARI

An old-time charivari was recently given Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Rourke, popular young people of this city, who were married September 24th. The affair was a surprise on the newlyweds and occurred at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. S. McGrath, the Monday night following the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. O'Rourke returned from their honeymoon early Monday evening and about 8:30 o'clock were properly serenaded with bells, horns, tin cans, etc.

After the serenaders had been invited into the house and congratulations had been offered, a pleasant evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Refreshments with toasts to the bride and groom concluded an evening that the young married couple and their friends will long remember. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Rourke, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bowler, Mrs. William L. Doyle, Mrs. A. A. McGrath, Mrs. Di Vita; Misses Myrtle Kiessling, Maybelle Spellman, Edna Young, Florence Robinson, Margaret Kavanagh, Mildred Foley, Helen Carmody, Mary Fitzgerald, Cecelia Farrell, Minnie Foley, Mary Lawler, Elizabeth Hyland, Anita Nelson, Ellen Hyland, Margaret Carmody, Viola Hein, Amelie Fourcans, Mary Carmody; Messrs. ## MORAL—DON'T BORROW.

A man who was too stingy to subscribe for his home paper sent his little boy to borrow the copy taken by a neighbor. In his haste the boy ran over a $4 stand of bees and in ten minutes looked like a warty summer squash. His father ran to his assistance, and failing to notice the barb wire fence, ran into that, cutting a hole in his anatomy and ruining a $5 pair of trousers. The old cow took advantage of the gap in the fence and got into the corn field and killed herself eating green corn. Hearing a racket, the wife ran out, upset a four-gallon churn full of cream into a basket of little chickens, drowning the entire hatch. In her haste she dropped a $35 set of false teeth. The baby, having been left alone, crawled through the milk into the parlor, ruining a brand-new $25 carpet. During the excitement the oldest daughter ran away with the hired man, the dog broke up eleven setting hens, and the calves got out and chewed the tails of four fine shirts on the clothesline.—Seabee (Ky.) ## THE MISANTHROPE.

I wisht I wuz a crow's egg,
I wisht I wuz a bad one,
I wisht there wuz a small boy a
climbin' up the tree,
I wisht he'd climb and climb and madly shot he had one.

I'd bust my shell
With horrid smell
An' cover him with me.

The country is full of jobs, and of people who don't want the jobs.
